However, we recommend an early application by 15.7.

“The European Management Master's program introduces global students to European business and the economy, while also benefiting from its location in the Berlin metropolitan area. Along with core business administration education, the program provides a broader perspective on European politics and institutions, European identities, and an International Business Project.”

Prof. Dr. Christian Hederer, Professor of Economics, in particular International Economic Policy

“I'm in my 2nd semester of a Master's program in European Management taught in English. It offers specialization in areas such as International Human Resource Management, Marketing, Accounting, and Financial Management. Having completed my Bachelor's at TH-Wildau and being satisfied with the program, professors, and campus, I decided to continue my studies there.”
